focusing on both developing sustainable growth for all industrial operations in the country. FTI is the core center in the following four areas:

- Centre of industrial co-operation among and with private sector and government sector in Thailand and abroad;
- Service center for all industrial developments;
- Activities center for all industrial operators;
- Problem-solving center for all industrial enterprises in the kingdom, both member and non-members regardless of sizes and types.

FTI represents Thai manufacturers at both national and international levels to (i) help promote and develop industrial enterprises; (ii) work with the government in setting up national policies; and (iii) offer consulting services to members. FTI is a full-service organization that cooperates with the government to help mobilize Thai industries to reach international markets. It acts as a "matchmaker" between foreign industrialists and Thai resources which combine the financial strength, planning ability, and persuasive power of Thailand's industrialists.
