

Dr. Pattra Maneesin, the acting director of Thai Packaging Centre, Thailand Institute of Scientific and Technological Research (TISTR), Bangkok, Thailand. Prior to obtaining her Ph.D. in Packaging from Michigan State University in 2001, she got her B.Sc. in Agricultural Industry from King Mongkut's Institute of Technology, Ladkrabang and her M.Sc. in Post-Harvest and Food Processing Engineering from Asian Institute of Technology (AIT). Not only having more than 30 years experiences doing researches in packaging, she is also a guest speaker and special lecturer on packaging and food packaging related topic. Her research area includes modified atmosphere packaging (MAP), active packaging and shelf life extension of food products, etc.